The City Can Be Comfortable

The rubber stampings voters put on ballots were hardly dry when the first complaint came.

"We're a city now?" was the question. "Where do we complain about city noise?"

The query came from Roy Davis, that egregious scion of the escrow fraternity—who else?

It was all in good, clean incorporation election fun but it makes a point.

Davis was doing what hundreds of residents will be doing after July 1 when the new city begins to function. They'll be taking their questions and their problems to local people instead of trucking off to downtown San Diego, often returning more frustrated than they were when they first decided to contact their government.

The County Board of Supervisors gave their blessing to the new city this week waiting only for the votes to be canvassed.

They also offered some help which will serve well the council in getting ready for the formal beginning.

The sups ordered all levels of county government to continue service at the same level after July 1 as was given in the past; directed the chief administrative officer to designate a person who would serve six months helping to set standards in line with county requirements and to aid in recruiting for certain city posts with the city council choosing from available candidates.

There is also a liaison person who will work closely with the council carrying requests and recommendations to the sups and straightening out matters which have wandered off the norm.

Additionally, council members have been designated advisory to the sups to make it possible for ideas and information to be exchanged on a quasi-official level.

As advertised prior to the election, the county and the myriad districts will continue to provide services for the full fiscal year. That explains why the city will become a reality on July 1. It's the first day of the 1977-78 year. It'll be a free ride from the sheriff's department on crime suppression and a free ride from the California Highway Patrol on traffic control and accident investigation. The City of Lemon Grove, after the year, will decide whether it wants to contract for these and other services or form departments and staff them.

The same situation holds true with the county road department. A bright spot in roads is the word that is being passed down—officially, that streets and roads in Lemon Grove will be put in "first class" shape before the fiscal year ends. Then these roads are our babies.

Another thoughtful development is the program of the five councilmen. They are Jim Dorman, Dr. Robert Burns, Dell Lake, John Doherty and Dale Bailey. They have announced a public meeting—a luncheon at Skandia on Friday, March 25 to which the public is urged to attend. Skandia is on the corner of Broadway and Kempf.

Guests, of course, will have to buy their own luncheon. But the soon-to-be city fathers will answer any questions possible.

These men are well known around the city and while no one would charge them with being stingy, all have held posts of authority in one organization or another and none were called profligate. That suggests that there won't be any wild spending.

The luncheon is an inspired idea. While the group cannot act for the city until July 1, and then it may only discuss issues and arrive at decisions in public after publicizing the hearing, the luncheon will fill the vacuum that might otherwise exist.

The luncheon is being sponsored by the L.G. Chamber of Commerce and additional information will be published prior to the meeting.

It is already becoming apparent that incorporation will be a comfortable way of life for the residents of the new city and the council appears to know that it holds the key to a continuation of that condition.

Even those candidates who did not win a councilmanic post seem to carry no animosity. And some Spring Valley leaders are looking at the Lemon Grove format as a possible pattern for determining their community's makeup after the City of Lemon Grove becomes operative.

There are some mighty fine people who entered the race for council. It might be in the best interest of the new city if the council were to form a committee of these people and use them in advisory matters where their interests lie.

There are at least six who are anxious to perform duties requested by their new city. It is likely that the council will take advantage of this fountainhead of ability.

Soon your city will have a telephonic complaint number. As matters stand now it is likely that it'll be used more for compliments than for squawks.

Family Town Meet Planned

L.G. History to Unfold As 600 Exchange Views

There's to be a gala show in Lemon Grove next month and local residents will be the performers.

The project envisions 400 local public at a day-long program where they will all have a part in the proceedings.

Called the Family Town Meeting—Lemon Grove, the gathering will be at St. John of the Cross new auditorium at Broadway and Washington. Activities will be conducted 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday, April 16.

It also envisions more than a hundred local volunteers arranging food, programs, transportation, singing, brainstorming entertainment and other organizational necessities.

It is a program sponsored by the Institute of Cultural Affairs and the program is designed to "create a new social meaning by allowing citizens to effectively participate in community decisions."

Hopes and Plans

And that means that townspeople are urged to take part so that they can tell of their own hopes and plans for their community and for themselves.

As a matter of fact, the results of the determinations and reactions created by the big group will be put together as a story of the community of Lemon Grove in song, story and symbol.

What's more, everyone who attends, will receive handbook on the events that took place during the day. The booklet should become a historical treasure.

A squad of writers and printers will be following events at the meeting closely and the pages will be produced within minutes of the events—chronicling what people say and do.

But listen to Donna Beckley tell about it. She is a vivacious blonde upon whose slender shoulders the whole project rests. Well, not exactly all. She will direct the 100 or more workers she is busily organizing.

Beckley is the Community School Director at Monterey Heights. She is responsible for the locally-funded program designed to make fuller use of Lemon Grove school facilities for local residents—adults as well as children. Funds come from a Community Service tax.

She is enthusiastic about the project.

Town Hall Concept

"It is a Town Hall concept," Beckley said. "After the first presentation about 10 a.m. on April 16, we'll have a brainstorming session. Then we'll form cluster groups and discuss such things as the hopes and dreams our people carry as they look at their community. We'll also explore the challenges and contradictions that exist."

"Concerns will cover such subjects as cultural, political and economic issues, under local personnel trained by Institute of Cultural Affairs experts."

"People will begin to see themselves as a closer part of their community and four workshops will be set up for practical proposals."

To Be a Book

"Participants will begin to tell the story of Lemon Grove in song and put their thoughts together in drama form. The song and the drama will be part of the booklet that will be distributed as the Town Hall meeting is finished. Each participant will be given a copy."

A steering committee includes these people: James Dorman, Estelle Lauer, Eleanor McCormick, Fire Chief Bob Adams, Helen Hobbs, Dotie Pettis, Pastor Terry McCormick, Ilse Hanning, Hernon Douglas, John Stenbeck, Jose Uribe, Neale Clifford, Paul Copeland and Mary McNitt.

Frank Curran

Installation of new board members and officers will be the order of business Saturday, March 26 when the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet.

The affair will be at St. John of the Cross Hall at Broadway and Washington sts. with festivities getting under way at 6:30 p.m.

The Honorable Frank E. Curran, former mayor of the City of San Diego, will be speaker. A program of entertainment is also scheduled.

It is not known who is to be installed since ballots in the annual election of board members will not be tallied until March 24 when the chamber has its regular monthly meeting at Skandia Restaurant. 74 ballots were cast.

New members will be feted at the banquet.

These include: Fins n' Feathers, American Cleaners, Aanco Fence, Western Floors, Fran's Fashions, Years of Yesterday, Nanny's Poodle, Grove Watch Repair, Leone's Restaurant, Nicolosi's Restaurant, Action Printing, Marshall Cabinets, Continental Printing, Aaron Lock and Key, and California Country Furniture.

The schedule: Cocktails, 6:30; Dinner, 7:30; Program, 8:30. Cost is $6 a person.

Kiwanis Cooks Up Pancakes For Annual Fund Drive

The 21st annual pancake day sponsored by the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club is scheduled for March 19 from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium, School Lane and Central avenue.

The annual event raises money for community youth groups and for the senior citizens nutritional project.

"I would like to see many flapjack eaters there," said Kiwanis President Robert Knauer. "The funds raised are used to help the community."

Pancake Day General Chairman Jerry Heath added the $1.50 ticket price includes all the ham or sausage, flapjacks, and coffee that can be consumed. There will also be milk for youngsters under 10 years.

Tickets may be purchased from Kiwanis members, Bobby Soxers, Little Leaguers, Pop Warner, Mt. Miguel Key Club members, L.G. Jr. High band members and parents, Mt. Miguel Boosters. Tickets will also be available at the door.

The Prowlers Auto Club will also have customized antique cars on display in the school yard.

Watches, Rings Gone

More than $340 worth of valuables was taken from the home of Robert David Bowen of 1514 Watwood, Lemon Grove after thieves entered his home by breaking the glass in his front door while he was away.

He told sheriff's deputies that the loss included coins, jewelry, watches, rings and a tape recorder.

The loss was reported on March 1.

Home-town Look for OTD Parade

All systems are "go" for the City of Lemon Grove's annual Old Time Days celebration, April 27-30. It'll be the first for the community as a city.

The climax of the event will be the parade which starts at 11 a.m. Saturday, March 30 but there will be other events, too.

Theme of this year's parade, according to Craig Lake, parade chairman, is "Kids on Parade". Local youngsters will be encouraged to take a bigger part this year than ever before.

A event added this year is a decorated bicycle contest.

Lake said, "We also want to bring the parade back to a home town level — ours."

"Toward this end all local folk who want to put on a costume are invited to join the fun and walk the parade route which starts at Massachusetts and travels east on Broadway to the Jack in the Box."

Units have been reduced this year, Lake said, from 210 to 130. "The parade was getting longer and repetitious," he said.

The KGB chicken is this year's parade marshal.

One of the features of a carnival to be held on the L.G. Jr. High School playgrounds on April 7-10 inclusive. Funds from the carnival pay a major portion of the expense of Old Time Days.

The L.G. Chamber of Commerce and many business firms will sell carnival ride tickets for $1 for a 5 ticket book. The Chamber gets all of the presale money.

"The cost is only 20 cents a ride," noted Leonard Klein chairman of Old Time Days.

Lunch With Councilmen March 25th

Reservations may be made at the L.G. Chamber of Commerce office for the Councilmen's lunch to be at Skandia March 25.

All five councilmen have indicated they would be present.

The meeting will update the councilmen's actions since the election.

The group is mostly gathering information until July 1 when the city come into being. They can hold no official meeting or take any official action until then.

But all of the members are well-known and they can talk informally about their individual view of cityhood at the March 25 affair.

Luncheon is $3. CoC number is 469-9621.

Insurance Fraud Attempted in SD

Last week a story in these columns regarded a fraud in which two men entered the home of an elderly Lemon Grove man under the pretext of giving him a rebate on his insurance.

In the process they entered his bedroom, took $200 he had hidden in a drawer, and left.

Three days later they tried the same ruse on a San Diego man. But the man had no money in his house. The insurance men excused themselves and left. Sheriff's deputies were waiting for them but they didn't return as promised.

The second caper encouraged the sheriff's department to issue a second warning, according to Deputy Andy Nossal of the sheriff's fraud department.

The charge, said deputy Dick Rabell, also a member of the department, will be burglary. The reason is technical, he said.

W. Dale Bailey, Supervisor Moore, James Dorman, Dell Lake, and Jack Doherty. The City of Lemon Grove is the first community to incorporate in San Diego county in 14 years and becomes the 14th incorporated city in the county. (San Diego County Photo).

There's An Answer

By Mr. and Mrs.
Norman Vincent Peale

To be married and then rejected

Q. I was truly happy when a widower I was dating told me he loved me. He is a good dresser, looks younger than his 58 years, has a lovely home and expensive car. We had gone to school together but for 20 years he lived in another state.

When my husband died he left me a comfortable home and a good income, but I was very lonely. So I thanked God daily for this new found happiness.

Then just a few weeks before I thought we were to be married he told me he did not want me. How can I live with this heartache and humiliation?

A. You should give thanks that you found out that he did not love you before you married him. You really are fortunate.

You may have some heartache, but certainly there is no need for you to feel humiliated.

Put him out of your mind and substitute an image of a good, loyal man who will want you. And find some absolutely activities which involve you with other people.

Becoming dull in retirement

Q. Is there a way we can find direction and purpose in our retirement? My husband and I just plod along in the same old rut of daily chores, and we are becoming very dull.

I know there are many things we can do if we could just decide what we want to do. We are in good health, are able to live comfortably in our own home, but we just don't have any interests to excite and challenge us. How can we change?

A. You are fortunate to realize that you and your husband can very easily go deeper into a rut where your lives will become increasingly dull and meaningless. The fact that you are retired from a job does not at all mean that you are retiring from life.

Decide what you would like to do; proceed to do it. Act upon it. Go to your pastor and tell him you would like to become involved in church activities. Work hard at it, accepting committee assignments.

Join a community organization such as the Chamber of Commerce or the Red Cross; and don't just belong; work at it. Your lives will soon be crammed full of interest.

You have a tremendous opportunity to live exciting lives. All kinds of activities are out there waiting for you to see them.

Wants to become a professional athlete

Q. I'm 18 years old, graduated from high school and had one year in prep school. I'm taking a year off from school to gain a strong spiritual backbone.

I play football and want to become a professional athlete. I want that every day of my life. I am obsessed with that thought.

I feel I have something which a lot of other athletes don't have. That is a starving thirst and hunger to be the best. I want it and I'm willing to do anything under the sky to accomplish my dream. I hope some day I will be able to say to someone else, "Don't worry; if you work hard you will get it." Can you help me help myself so I in turn can help humanity?

A. There are four ways to become an outstanding professional athlete (or to become outstanding in any job). What we are going to give you was told to us by the famous Olympic athlete, Jesse Owens, as the way he attained success.

He had a dream of what he wanted to be. So he built a ladder to his dream. The ladder had four rungs: 1. Determination. 2. Dedication. 3. Discipline. 4. Attitude.

There is another rung on the ladder to one's dream; it is desire. This you seem to have in abundance. So, climb this ladder and visualize yourself at the top.

We have a booklet, "Try Faith and Watch What Happens," which has helped others with questions such as yours, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone reading this column who wishes a free copy may write for one. Address your request to Dr. and Mrs. Peale, Box 500 Pawling, NY 12564.

Perhaps you would like to find an answer for yourself to a problem that you can share with others in THERE'S AN ANSWER! If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

3rd Chef's Demo Set For Saturday At College Grove

The third in a series of five cooking demonstrations featuring chefs from popular San Diego restaurants will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Walker-Scott store in College Grove.

Mark Lewandowski, head chef at Houlihan's Old Place and a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America, will prepare a number of his specialty dishes, including one known simply as "Joe's Omelet," a favorite at Houlihan's. He will also prepare mushrooms stuffed with crabmeat, chicken and shrimp crepes, and French onion soup.

Samples of all the dishes prepared will be available for tasting following the demonstrations, which will be held on the store's lower level, across from the housewares section.

The two previous cooking demonstrations featured chefs from Anthony's Fish restaurants, and Coronado's Mexican Village.

The final two sessions will present the chefs from Le Pavillion French restaurant, on March 26 and the Blue Jade Chinese restaurant, April 2.

Free Pap Tests At Two Clinics

Women over 40 years of age who have not had a Pap test in the past year or ever are eligible for such tests at two Pap screening clinics without charge.

The tests will be given under the auspices of the County Health Department.

The first clinic will be at the El Cajon Health Center, 113 East Douglas ave., El Cajon, on Tuesday from 1-4 p.m. The second will be conducted at the East S.D. Health Center, 5202 University ave, on Tuesday, March 29, 1-4 p.m.

Dr. John R. Philp, director of public health, said the clinics are part of a cooperative, countywide program with the S.D. County Unit of the American Cancer Society. They are being offered to low-income women, particularly those over 40 years of age.

"This includes women who have had a partial or complete hysterectomy," Dr. Philp noted. "Often these women do not realize that many of them need to have a periodic Pap test."

"The test provides an important means of early cancer detection in women," Dr. Philp said. "When found early, cancer can be successfully treated in most cases."

Appointments are recommended, but not required. The Cajon clinic phone is 579-4446; East S.D. 582-6433.

Home Tips Save Energy And Cut Bulging Bills

San Diego Gas and Electric Company has compiled some tips on cutting down bulging gas bills.

Some of the hints the gas company gives in saving energy around the home are:

Refrigerators and Freezers —Keep them clean. More than a 1/4 of frost makes the refrigeration units work harder since circulation is reduced.

—Keep the doors closed. Refrigeration loss occurs very quickly, obviously, with the door open.

—Keep it full. Frozen foods help by aiding refrigeration.

—Paper towel test. Test the seals around the doors with a paper towel. If the door closes without resistance, there is some refrigeration loss through the rubber seals and they should be replaced.

—Frost Free Hoax. Frost free refrigerators use twice as much electricity as a standard model.

Ranges and Ovens —Pots and Pans. Utensils too small for burners let heat escape; if they are too big or have warped bottoms, food will not cook evenly. Medium weight aluminum pans cook food faster and more efficiently.

—Heavy pans should be used for slow, steady cooking.

—Pre-heating. Unless you are baking breads and cakes, pre-heating is out. Casseroles and broiled foods don't need it.

—Keep door closed. Every time you open the oven door, you lose 25 degrees of heat.

—Plan oven meals. Put dishes such as meatloaf, baked potatoes, and baked apples in the oven at the same time. They cook at the same temperature for the same length of ter cup milk; 3/4 tablespoons lard or butter; salt, pepper, half teaspoon caraway seeds.

Peel potatoes and drop into bowl of cold water to prevent discoloration. In large bowl stir together flour, salt, milk and caraway seeds.

Pat potatoes dry and grate coarsely and stir into the flour-milk mix.

Put lard or butter into skillet on moderate heat pouring a tablespoon of batter for each cake. Fry 3 minutes on each side or until golden brown or crisp around edges.

Put each batch into a warm oven until there is a large platter full. Enjoy, begorrah!

Blown Glass Exhibit

Touch of Glass, San Diego's only gallery devoted to contemporary American blown glass art, will present a large collection of new works by Norm Thomas, April 2-18, 11 a.m.-6 p.m. The artist has entitled the collection "Clear Visions."

Touch of Glass directors say his genius for the creation of "New Art" brings an exquisite collection of pieces believed to rank among tomorrow's classics.

The gallery is opposite the Whaley House in Old Town.

—Left-overs. Your oven retains heat from 15 to 30 minutes. An electric range top element keeps heat for three to five minutes. Use this heat to warm up desserts, freshen crackers or cookies.

—Keep it clean. A stove free of grease and residues works less and takes less energy.

Hot Water —Fix the drips. A drip a second wastes 700 gallons of hot water per year.

—Shower saver. A shower takes less hot water than baths yet shampoo in the sink. It saves hot water.

—Dishwashers. Run it once a day. It takes 13 gallons of water instead of the 10 gallons used when washing by hand.

—Cold water for Disposal. Grease solidifies in cold water in garbage disposals and is easier to flush away.

Small Appliances —Mini-ranges. Electric skillets, broiler-ovens, and toasters use half the energy as the oven.

Lighting —Shades and Bulbs. Lamp shades lined in white give best light. Tall, narrow shades for short dark colored ones waste watts. Dirt and dust also absorb watts. Clean the bulbs.

—Redecorate. Rearrange your rooms. Let one well placed light do the work for three or four. Dark colors absorb light.

—Bulbs. Use lower watt bulbs. Even better are fluorescent lights which provide four times the light for the same amount of electricity and last four times longer.

Eye Transplant Is Club Program

The Spring Valley Woman's Club will hear Dr. Perry S. Binder of the University Hospital Eye Clinic discuss cornea eye transplants at the group's regular meeting Wednesday at 1 p.m.

The club, which meets at Goodland Acres, 8843 Troy st., will later name a nominating committee for a coming election of officers.

Hostesses for the meeting are Kathleen Shinn and Lucille Irwin.

V.F.W. Aux Prexy Due

Mrs. Mary Souders of Portland, president of the National Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies' Auxiliary, will visit the First District VFW Sunday.

Mrs. Souders went through the chairs of the National VFW organization, and was elected and installed as National President in August in New York City at the National Convention. Mrs. Souders theme is "Lest We Forget . . . a clarion call to all Americans to join in the effort of preserving our National freedom."

Mrs. Marge Minton of El Cajon is chairman for the visit.

The bank's program for high-school seniors is now in its 30th year. The Community College Awards Program was started 7 years ago.

22nd ANNIVERSARY — Mrs. Louise Lee, owner of Lee's Alteration Shop, 3465 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, celebrated her 22nd year in business on March 1. Mrs. Lee opened her shop on the first of March 1955.

Her observance of the event was marked quietly. "I guess you could say I celebrated by just doing a good day's work," added Mrs. Lee.

Grant Allows Doctor To Study Birth Defect Causing Enzyme

A University of California San Diego professor has been awarded a $24,000 March of Dimes Research Grant to do studies on how body chemistry effects mental retardation and seizures.

The March of Dimes has given Dr. Walter Weyler, assistant professor of pediatrics in resident, UCSD, the grant to study how inherited abnormalities in enzymes causes accumulation of acids in the body.

This accumulation is thought to hold the key to mental retardation. Dr. Weyler's study searches a group of disorders which are alike and cause abnormally high blood levels of glycine, an enzyme used in the digestion of protein.

Dr. Weyler's research augments earlier breakthroughs by scientists at Tufts and Yale universities.

Researchers there found by giving the mother massive doses of vitamin B-12, an unborn child waved off the possibility of being born mentally retarded.

Weyler's study will develop over a two year period.

JoAnne Carner Signs in for Crosby Match

JoAnne Carner, current U. S. Open champion, has entered the $165,000 Kathryn Crosby/Honda Civic Golf Classic March 23-27 at Whispering Palms.

Although the winner of a record five U. S. Amateur titles and $255,212 in her last three pro seasons, Carner readily admits she didn't feel secure on the tour until her second Open victory last summer.

"My first Open win (1971) allowed me to believe in myself but when I won for the second time last year it made everyone believe in me," she said. "Winning two Opens means you've arrived. It puts you up there with the Mickey Wrights and all the great players."

When the more than 100 women pros begin their 72-hole competition at Whispering Palms, they'll find a course more suited to U. S. Open length. Such a condition appeals to Carner.

"The Open favors the shot-maker, it isn't just another putting contest. And in that regard, I expect the Crosby/Honda event to be similar to the competitive demands of an Open."

Carner earned $103,275 from her 1976 season that produced three tournament wins in addition to her Open triumph. Even more a measure of her performance was that only once in 27 events did she finish poorer than 13th.

Strong off the tee, her style is characterized by an aggressive shot selection that often borders on the reckless.

"People prefer to watch good shots rather than good scores," she reasons. "I try to accommodate the gallery. And that's the way I like to play."

The tournament, whose purse is the second largest on the tour, now has attracted Jane Blalock, Donna Young, Kathy Whitworth, Carol Mann and Laura Baugh and it is expected that all the top players will be included in the field.

Also, it was announced that Charlie Schultz, the creator of "Peanuts," will participate in Kathryn Crosby's Tee Party, where 20 celebrities will be paired with the pros over the final 36 holes. Schultz will join Bing Crosby, Don Knotts, Greg Morris, James Garner, Jack Albertson, Delores Hope, Lawrence Welk and others.

Twilight Games New On Chargers '77 Sked

A series of twilight starting times in San Diego Stadium will feature the San Diego Chargers' 1977 home pre-season schedule it was announced by general manager John Sanders.

The Chargers will play the San Francisco 49ers on Saturday, August 13, the New York Giants on Saturday, August 20, and the Seattle Seahawks on Saturday, September 10. All games will begin at 6 p.m.

"We hope this will provide a convenience for many of our fans, should they wish to bring their families to the games and should they wish to take advantage of the earlier conclusions of the games," said Sanders.

The Chargers open the pre-season at Dallas against the Cowboys Saturday night, August 6, and visit the Oakland Raiders Saturday night, August 27, and the Los Angeles Rams Thursday night, September 1.

The Dallas game will mark the Chargers' first appearance in Texas Stadium, home of the Cowboys. The San Francisco game will offer a re-match of a game in which the Chargers defeated the 49ers 13-7 in sudden death overtime at San Diego Stadium in the thirteenth game of the 1976 season.

The game with the Super Bowl XI champion Raiders at Oakland will be the Chargers' first in the pre-season against the Raiders since 1969. This contest will be one of two in which the Chargers will meet AFC Western Division rivals. The other is against the Seattle Seahawks, who are moving over from the NFC in their second year and will be aligned with the Chargers, Oakland, Denver, and Kansas City.

Tanner Signs for Classic At La Costa March 21-27

Roscoe Tanner, the quietly efficient pro who wins with classic style but performs in undesired anonymity, has entered the $100,000 La Costa International Tennis Classic March 21-27.

With $178,906 in tournament earnings last year, only six players did better, and a victory in the Australian Open this year, Tanner appears properly positioned to acquire the type of super-status rating that has avoided him.

"I guess it's because I haven't won a really major event," the 25-year-old Stanford graduate says. "My goal is to win a major championship. A victory at La Costa certainly would do the job."

His big serve and accurate volleying have been well treated by the La Costa surface, which is neither too slow nor too fast. Twice he has reached the semi-finals, last year losing to Jimmy Connors in a wicked match whose outcome teetered on a linesman's decision.

Last year was a pleasant one for this pleasant pro from Lookout Mountain, Tenn. He San Francisco, Cincinnati and was a tournament winner at took the Japan Open as well. He whipped Connors twice, Nastase once, Dibbs twice and Ashe once. Against the top 50 players in the world, he won 26 of 39 matches.

Tournament director Don Hamilton announced that the entry of Sherwood Stewart and Fred McNeil, ranked as the number one U.S. doubles team, has been received. Stewart and McNeil won the French doubles championship last year.

Sweden's Ove Bengtson also has entered as has Colin Dibley, the winner at La Costa five years ago. World Team Tennis players Ross Case, who paired with Rod Laver for the Friars last year; Phil Dent, New York; Geoff Masters, Los Angeles; Ray Ruffles, Indiana, also have entered. The singles and doubles field will be set at 64 with pre-tournament qualifying expected.

Matches will be played at 11 a.m. and again at 7 p.m. Monday through Friday with the semi-finals starting at 11 a.m. Saturday and the finals on Sunday. The La Costa box office is open daily at 9 a.m. and tickets may be purchased at Ticketron outlets throughout San Diego County and by mail: Write La Costa Tennis Classic, Costa Del Mar Road, Carlsbad 92008.

As a High School youth he set world records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes along with a world record of 24 feet in the broad jump. Owens is a Board Member of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and he and his wife, Ruth, celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary this year.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

You can almost hear someone like Jackie Vernon saying it, "The only way to improve my golf is to watch lady golfers play."

It sounds funny, but according to Kathryn Crosby/Honda Civic Golf Classic tournament director Don Ross, it also makes a great deal of sense.

"Most average golfers can't hit with men pros," says Don. "So when they see a man professional belt a driver 280 yards off a tee and hit to the pin with an eight iron on a 440 yard hole, they really can't learn a helluva lot. Pros are supposed to make shots like that, but average golfers only dream about them."

"Now, if they see a lady pro hit a drive 210 yards down the lane and have to use a three-wood or a long iron into a 440 yard hole, they're watching their game. Average and better-than-average men golfers can learn more about their own game watching lady pros than they ever will watching guys like Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller or Andy Bean. When said like that, such thinking jolts your head bone. It does make sense. Except for a handful of long knockers, women pros play about the way most guys attack the course. Even if the ladies end up with better scores, it's only because they sink all those putts."

It stands to reason then, most of the guys in the gallery at Kathryn Crosby's Honda Civic Golf Classic March 23 through the 27 out at Whispering Palms will be checking to see what they can pick up . . . golf playing-wise, of course.

The viewing females will likely be gawking at the likes of Kathy's husband, Bing and the other celebrities teeing up in the reverse ProAm. In the Crosby/Honda Civic PGA golf happenings, the stars tour the grounds with the lady pros in the final two rounds instead of the day before tourney being begins, as the PGA insists.

Bing's old buddy, Phil Harris is among those scheduled for public view. Along with polka-dancing Lawrence Welk, James Garner, Don Knotts, Bob's better half, Delores Hope and "The Man" himself, Jack Albertson.

No matter, the real stars of the touring test will be the ladies themselves and watching them can be fun, enjoyment and educational.

"Whispering Palms is an outstanding course for galleries," insists Ross. "There is ample room between fairways and a number of tees and greens clustered in easy walking distance."

The gals will attack the tough South Nine first, then come home to birdie opportunities on the East layout.

"The ladies will face back to back par fives on the 4th and 5th hole, with out of bounds on the left, trapped fairways and well bunkered greens. They play right into the wind and at 451 and 463 yards, respectively, there is little chance anybody will get home in two. They are not birdie holes."

"Then they follow that with a demanding par-4, 385 yard dandy, into a swirling wind and a two level green blocked by two huge bunkers that invite nasty pin placement."

A drive around the place confirmed Ross' testimony. Only he didn't say enough. The entire place is trapped. The fairways are 40 yards wide and where there isn't an out of bounds, there are trees.

And the "so called easy" birdie holes come AFTER the tough tests, so the gals will be trying hard, maybe too hard, to get even.

The best place for watching on the front side seems down around the 6th green (4th green, 7th and 5th tee). On the back side try the 17th green (18th tee, 13th green, 14th tee). You'll learn a lot here.

But keep your eyes open. There are so many traps and bunkers around the Whispering Palms golf works you kind of expect to see a cavalry charge by the Foreign Legion come roaring out of all that sand anytime.

Gonzales Beats Lujan In Second Local Fight

By Max Goodwin

Jose Gonzales, the flashy featherweight fighter out of Miami who now calls San Diego his home, surprised local fight fans by taking a split decision over state feather champion Manny Lujan, 128.

Gonzales, 129½, as colorful a fighter as the town has seen in recent years, uses some of Windmill White's playful plays plus a tendency to hoot when he has an easy opponent. Lujan wasn't easy. So Jose played it straight. This writer had the fight a draw.

Judge Bobby Valdez scored it 98-94 for Gonzales and referee Fred Hayes favored the winner 96-96. Judge Hal Rickard posted 100-94 for Lujan. Gonzales is under the management of Angelo Dundee.

The fight was a 10-rounder and Lujan's title was not on the line.

Ad Zapanta, 129, the baby-faced fighter from the Philippines who has been fighting around the world since his last appearance here three years ago, dropped a 10-round unanimous decision to Alejandro Lopez, 134, of Bonita. Zapanta has lost some of his class since his last San Diego appearance. However, there seemed to be a greater weight difference between the two than the five pounds listed on the card.

Heavyweight David Wynne, 194, now of Chula Vista having moved from Clairemont, won his third pro fight in a row by stopping Phelps Se'e, 204, of American Samoa at 53 seconds of the second round of a bout scheduled for six. Wynne staggered Se'e with an overhand right in the first round and dropped him with a left hook in the second.

Danny Millsap's bi-weekly cards are drawing. For the second time in a row the house was well filled. He announced attendance at 2,839.

Another twin 10-rounder is scheduled for March 25.

Wardrop Named IVA Breakers Player Coach

Bill Waldrop, assistant coach of last year's IVA Volleyball Champs, has been signed as 1977 player-coach.

As a player in 1975-76 he was first-team All-League. He was described by VOLLEYBALL MAGAZINE as "America's best blocker," a "dominant force at the net" and a "hungry put-away machine."

Breakers manager Nancy Freitas said that Waldrop was the team's no. 1 choice as player-coach and that they view him as the best coach in the league.

Wardrop was collegiate All-American at USC where he also played basketball.

Cash Awards Listed For Pentathlon

"The most exciting motivational program ever devised for track and field." That's what high school coaches and physical educators are calling the Vitalis High School Pentathlon.

It's a five-event competition for high school students.

They compete against themselves and the clock, against their schoolmates, and against every high schooler in the state.

Beginning soon at most high schools in the state, the Vitalis High School Pentathlon will have students participating in the 100-yard dash, the long jump, the high jump, the shot put, and the 440-yard run. Coaches will record individual scores and send them to Pentathlon headquarters for tabulation. When the results are in, there'll be winners in every school.

3rd Place for Wrestler Who Lost Only Once

Unfortunately for him, that loss took place in the state semifinals.

San Jose's David Cotti, who won the 118-pound state crown, topped Hallinan, 4-3, in the semifinal clash.

Hallinan went on to place third, which gave him Junior College All-American recognition. He finished with a 35-1 season record.

Freshman Cam Herrick placed fourth in the 190-pound division. He won three of five decisions at the state meet.

Jennings Fishing Season Extended

Fishing season at Lake Jennings has been extended through July for warm-water fishing by the Helix Water Works board of directors.

The lake will be open 12-8 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays and will remain open 7 days a week for shore fishing to campers in the County operated campground. Summer fishing fees: Adults: $1.50, Juniors: 75 cents. Boats and motors will be available for rent.

Jennings, 6 miles East of El Cajon, has a 5-mile perimeter and holds many challenges for anglers. Fish are trout, large mouth bass, catfish and redear sunfish. During the past season 18 cats were snagged over 5 lbs., with the largest weighing in at 29 lbs. 11 oz. 38" long — and the largest bass during the period at 11 lbs. 14 ozs.

Trout will not be planted after June, however, there should be a good harvest left as aeration of the lake allows them to survive at a deeper level in the warm weather, as well as aiding the water quality.

Helix Board Member John Gibson said fishermen would do the district a favor if they would harvest some of the big cats since they are preying on the newly planted small trout.

Free Calendars Available From Hollywood Park

The April 13th opening of the 1977 Hollywood Park thoroughbred season is still almost a month away, but racing fans who patronize the Club House at the Inglewood track already are winners.

A new Club House area, adjacent to the Private Turf Club, called the Cinema Terrace, will be ready for the upcoming meet and will provide an additional 1,425 seats, 700 of which will be free every racing day.

"Reserved seating in the Club House has been at a premium in recent seasons, particularly on weekends, but with conversion of the Grandstand area to the Cinema Terrace, we hope to meet our demands," commented Robert P. Benoit, Hollywood Park general manager.

Fans desiring to take advantage of accommodations in the Cinema Terrace may enter the track either through the Club House entrance or via the two Grandstand entrances and then pay a $2 cross-over charge.

Career Criminal Population Grows Says S.D. Assemblyman

By Bill Craven

Surveys indicate that more and more people are being attracted to a "lucrative" career field which offers ready cash, takes no tax from the income, and has no set job qualifications. The field: criminal activity.

PARADE magazine recently reported that "the nation now has more than 550,000 career criminals who show little intention of changing their lifestyles."

Since persons who are adroit at this "profession" often escape detection, the above statistics underestimate the number of people currently involved in criminal activities.

Yet, according to PARADE, information from computerized FBI files indicates that "career criminals" commit 81 per cent of all burglaries, 77 per cent of the robberies, 75 per cent of car thefts, 73 per cent of the rapes, 70 per cent of the muggings, and 68 per cent of the major forgeries.

Crime Doubled

In California, crime has doubled in the past ten years. And authorities estimate that crime will again double in just four years.

The unfortunate truth is this: Police records show that only six per cent of the population accounts for 70 per cent of all crime.

The real tragedy lies in our inability — or unwillingness — to come to grips with the problem. Right now, that small six per cent segment of our population is being given a revolving-door treatment to commit crime again.

The record indicates that only 13 per cent of the convicted felons are sentenced to a term in state prison.

While the system is returning criminals to our communities, the residents must adjust their lives to cope with the mounting crime crisis.

Evening Fear

People are afraid to walk alone in the evenings, as increasing numbers of attacks and muggings are reported in the news daily. Iron gates have become a commonplace sight in our neighborhoods, and more and more people are purchasing burglar alarms and complicated lock devices for their homes. Everyone seems to know at least one person who was victimized with in the past year.

The crime rate continues to soar; yet the system is returning criminals to society. The current aura of concern for the criminal — rather than the victim — does nothing to effectively reduce the mounting crime crisis.

People are both frightened of the ever-present threat of criminal activity, and fed up with a system which does not afford them substantial protection.

System Not Working

Californians are outraged . . . and rightly so. The criminal justice system . . . which by and large has the necessary tools to be effective . . . is not working. Clearly the time has come to take action. Three major steps need to be taken:

1. Eliminate court delays, thereby ensuring swift decisions and punishment.
2. Ensure mandatory jail time for all crimes of violence.
3. Provide that second and subsequent offenses will . . . without exception . . . draw longer sentences with a direct correlation between the number of offenses and time served.

Californians deserve better protection than they are now getting. The system . . . with only a few changes . . . will again allow us all to live without fear.

Pre-Season Show Features Stocks, 8's, Demolition

GARDENA — An open competition Figure-8 program, complete with street stocks, woman's oval racing, and a demolition derby, will serve as the only pre-season exhibition event at J. C. Agajanian's Ascot, Sunday at 1 p.m.

The regular season will begin with five events spread over a two-week period, March 26-27 and April 1-2-3. CRA sprint cars, the most popular program of the 1976 season, will return Saturday, March 26.

The 14th running of the American Motorcyclist Assn. 100-lap TT steeplechase, featuring most of the nation's touring pros, takes the stage, Sunday afternoon, March 27.

In the Figure-8 races drivers from Corona and Saugus Speedways will join the members of Ascot's FEAR (Figure-8 Auto Racing Assn.) in competition for a $2,500 purse.

The woman's oval event has an incentive program. In the effort to seek feminine participation, the purse will be based on the number of cars participating. The women will get $250 of the $2,500 total if they have 15 or more cars.

The first demolition derby of the year will attract Tom and Bob Zumwalt of Carson, the brother act starring in Ascot's biggest event of the 1976 season.

For the first time street stocks will be included in the format with Figure 8's.

Notes Obligations

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank the people in the L.G. School District who supported my candidacy for the L.G. School Board with your time, your efforts, and your votes.

My victory, I feel, carries with it an obligation — not only to my supporters but to the entire community — to deal with each issue fairly, to remain aware and involved, and to seek the best quality education at the lowest possible cost for all the children in our school area.

With your help I intend to fulfill this obligation to the best of my ability.

As I stated in my campaign plan to seek input from all parts of the community and to be accessible to all. My phone number is listed (460-1973). I welcome your comments.

You are invited and encouraged to attend School Board meetings. They are held in the Board Room of the L.G. School District office, 8025 Lincoln, on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Vicky Morgan

For Basic Education

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank you and your staff for the excellent coverage of the recent elections in our City, both the Incorporation and the School Board. I am aware of the time you devoted to interviewing all of the candidates, in order to provide your readers with concise information to make their best choice.

My thanks also to all of the people who worked so diligently on my campaign, especially my campaign managers — Goldie Wolman and Margaret Polakowski and the many precinct workers and telephone callers.

I wish to assure all of those who voted for me that I will do my best to improve the communications between the Board and the community, and strive for greater emphasis on basic education.

I hope that citizens WILL contact me with concerns that they may have during the next four years.

Most Sincerely,
Carol Chubb

Congratulations

Amnesty Asked

Dear Editor:

I want to thank the people of Lemon Grove for the support they gave incorporation.

I also commend the staff of the Lemon Grove Review for complete and honest coverage of the campaign and the election.

The incorporation issue has been present for many years and other campaigns have caused disruptions to friendships. I trust this was not the case this time. If there were, let's declare a complete and unconditional amnesty, heal the wounds and be about building a better life for all who live here.

The new council needs all the help it can get to prioritize and implement the efforts to fill the needs of the City.

We will appreciate the help of all and beg your prayers for the highest ultimate success in the years ahead.

Dr. Robert Burns
L.G. City Councilman

To Remain Active

Dear Sir:

The long and sometimes bitter campaign is over. The voters have expressed themselves and are clearly the winners. Dave Spisak, Carol Chubb and Vickie Morgan will bring vitality, creativity and enthusiasm to the Board.

For those faithful voters who supported me in the past two elections. I am deeply indebted. This support is a tremendous source of satisfaction to me. I plan to remain active in educational issues through the District's Goals Committee and attendance at Board meetings.

I urge all interested citizens to rally around our new Board and City Council. Active citizen participation will insure good government.

Ask Your C.H.P.

CHP Capt. C.M. Douglas

Last week's column discussed the Kempf street extension on the north side of Broadway and the legality of crossing Broadway extension to south-bound Kempf.

If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It may save you a citation — or even your life. Write care of this newspaper. You don't have to sign the letter. Please allow about three weeks for the reply to appear.

This Week's Question:

On Imperial in Lemon Grove at Golden ave., north-bound traffic has four options. A left-turn slot aids those who want to get on Pacific.

Two through lanes are for those who would continue north to Broadway or beyond.

A parking lane is kept unoccupied for patrons of the First National Bank's drive-in. Traffic frequently backs in to Imperial, past the open parking area and out into the east lane of the street.

Couldn't this condition be corrected if the bank's traffic flow were reversed so drive-in traffic could leave on Imperial?

Reply:

This situation would have to be taken up with the bank. Inasmuch as the bank is private property, we could not require them to change the direction of traffic flow.

There is little that can be done to alleviate the congestion due to the nature of the area. Traffic would also back up on Golden ave., a much narrower street, and create more of a hazard.

Unemployment Drops Slightly

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate in San Diego County dropped to 10.1 per cent in February from 10.9 per cent reported in January.

The current figure was also well below the 11.9 per cent figure of a year ago. The decline in the adjusted rate was partially the result of a mild winter and in increase in jobs.

The number of unemployed declined slightly in February from 73,200 in January to 71,700 during the current report month. The number of jobless a year ago was estimated at 83,800.

Total employment eased upward to 584,200 in February from 581,800 in January and considerably above the 565,300 jobholders in February 1976.

Liquor License Drawings New Restrictions Eyed

Under a new bill recently introduced by Senator Bob Wilson (D-S.D.) only U. S. citizens residing in California will be allowed to participate in drawings for state liquor licenses.

Under current law, anybody depositing the original license fee of $6,000 may participate in the drawings held annually by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

According to ABC's records, approximately half of the 1975 applicants for original off-sale general (package store) and approximately one-fourth of the applicants for original on-sale general (bar) licenses appear to be non-citizens.

Wilson added that special privileges at reduced price should only be offered to tax-paying resident citizens, but that foreign nationals would not be prohibited from buying licenses at their fair market price.

Class to Open March 22 For Sheriff's Reserves

Citizens who wish to become members of the Sheriff's Reserves may attend a briefing at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday or on March 22 in the Jury Lounge at the Sheriff's headquarters, 222 West "C" st. in San Diego.

"The S.D. Sheriff's Reserve is considered among the best in the country. They are better trained and are given more independence and discretion than are reserves in most law enforcement agencies," Sheriff John Duffy said.

Reserve deputy sheriffs serve without pay, are required to purchase their own uniforms, pistol and associated equipment.

"That's a cost of between $300 and $400 out of their pockets. In addition they must attend our Reserve Academy for three or four nights a week, for nine months to be qualified," Duffy said.

Applications being taken at the briefings are for the Reserve Academy which begin in late August.

In citing the requirements to become a reserve, Duffy said the program is open to men and women of good character and good physical condition between ages of 21 and 40.

"We sometimes give a waiver to people over 40 if they have prior law enforcement experience. And the term 'good character' is determined after a complete background check on the applicant," the Sheriff explained.

Beer-15 Million Barrels

SAN FRANCISCO — Beer sales and taxes both reached record highs in California during 1976, with consumers drinking 15 1/2 million barrels and paying for the privilege of doing so by shelling out more than $289 million in tax money.

According to figures released by the U. S. Brewers Assn., both figures are approximately 5 per cent higher than in 1975.

Of the tax, $141.75 million went to the federal treasury because it imposes an excise tax of $9 on each barrel of beer sold.

The state of California garnered $19.53 million from its $1.24 per barrel excise tax, and shared in a $90 million tax pot from the point-of-purchase sales tax.
